FORTY-FOURTH YEAR NO. 12.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1921

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE MUST HAVE ADDITIONAL FUNDS AND NEW BUILDINGS.

A campaign has been started by the Alumni of Cedarville College to interest members in the work of assisting to increase the endowment of the college. Dr. J. Alvin Orr of Pittsburgh, Pa., is chairman of publicity and has made an appeal to the members of the Alumni for support. The time has come when the college must have additional endowment. It must also have new buildings with greater capacity to carry on the work. The necessity of increased endowment is to place the institution within the requirements of the State Association of Colleges, an endowment of $200,000 being required to get recognition.

The college authorities have planned a campaign to be put on in the near future. Dr. Orr in his communication sends each a copy of the minutes of the last Alumni meeting. The association has set $100,000 as its objective for the endowment fund and challenges the Reformed Presbyterian denomination and the community around Cedarville to raise an equal amount for buildings and equipment. The college is greatly in need of additional buildings. A science hall is required for the work of the college students. A girls' dormitory is a necessity in the modern school and the absence of such is keeping many girls from attending Cedarville college. A new gymnasium is also needed; one with more modern requirements and large enough to meet the growing needs of the institution.

It is planned now to convert the present Alford gym into a modern science hall which can be done without great cost. The dormitory for girls and the gymnasium would be built on the college campus. It is estimated that $100,000 will be required for the building fund.

The time has come when Cedarville and community must do something substantial on a large scale for the college if it is to continue here. For the second time an offer has come from Dayton to move this institution to that city. A site has been offered with a 40 acre campus and buildings. The advantages of a city like Dayton for a college are many owing to a very extensive territory not touched by immediate colleges that has access by steam and traction roads.

Few people know anything about the sacrifice Dr. McChesney and members of the faculty have made to remain with this institution in Cedarville. The turning point has been reached and the situation is to be put squarely before the people for action. Dr. McChesney naturally is loath to see the college leave Cedarville but the institution must have additional endowment to remain in the Association of Colleges. Otherwise it becomes an academy or junior college.

Those who have children to educate cannot afford to see the college leave this community. With many families the removal means that their children cannot have the advantage of a college education owing to the cost. To those who have no children and have the means it should appeal to you to lend assistance in keeping an institution here that has had much to do with increasing of land and real estate values.

With the additional funds and new buildings, Dr. McChesney pledges his lifework for Cedarville College and the education of young men and women.

We had better all make up our mind to support this movement in a very liberal way than too wish we had after the institution is closed and gone.

BROTHERS AGAINST BROTHERS AND COLLINS BROTHERS WIN

The basket ball game between the Brill Brothers of Alpha, and Collins Brothers of this place at the Alford Gym Monday evening, was the most exciting athletic event of the year in the county. Delegations were present from neighboring towns. Some weeks ago the Collins Brothers defeated the Brill boys at the rink in Xenia. The game was a tie and this was played off with the local boys winning. The second game was arranged with Collins Bros, who were the winners again by a close score of 25 to 23. The game was close and at one time Brill boys were 8 points in the lead. Both teams are evenly matched and put on a good clean game.

MIDNIGHT TRAIN STOPPED.

The midnight east bound train was stopped here Monday night and Dr. M. J. Marsh called to render medical aid for a lady that was a passenger for Orville, O. She had been in Cincinnati where she was operated upon for cancer of the breast. She was supposed to have recovered enough to permit being taken home. It is said the incident that had partially healed broke and the lady was slowly bleeding to death. Medical aid was rendered and an ambulance called to remove her to the Grant hospital in Columbus upon her arrival there.

JAMESTOWN PIKE SITUATION IS VERY COMPLICATED

There is much argument going on at present over the building of the Jamestown pike. Last week a delegation of farmers appeared before the county commissioners. From reports almost every man had an idea of his own how to build the road.

The state a year ago had planned to take over the road but owing to the labor situation and material it was deferred to this year. The department now wants to drop it on the plea that the pike is not a main market road and not entitled to state aid.

Some of the land owners want the state to build it so that it will be kept up in the years to come without any cost to the land. Others are opposed largely to the cost which is estimated at $31,000 a mile for a bituminous road, something new for this county. The state has announced that no more water bound macadam roads will be built.

Under a special tax law something like $70,000 is laying in the state state treasury that was collected from Greene county taxpayers for road purposes. This cannot be used only as the state sees fit.

A few of the land owners want the county and township to build the road on the plea that it can be built much cheaper than the state will build it. It is said that the automobile money and some other road money cannot be used for road building, only for repair. By this the county and trustees have no available funds this year.

The only recourse then is to issue bonds running five or ten years and assess the cost on the land for one half mile on each side of the road. There are others who are absolutely opposed to issuing bonds for road purposes on the ground that the road will be worn out before the debt is paid.

The estimated cost under the plan for the county and trustees of placing 10 tons of rock on the present grade to the road is around $60,000. This would not even be a genuine water bound macadam and we find a few who say they want a better road than that. When a road built under this plan wears out another assessment can be placed on the land. The state assessment can only be 10 per cent, the county and township plan 20 per cent on the acreage basis.

Officials and land owners agree that $31,000 a mile is an extremely high estimate. According to the way high estimates are being put, now the officials say it would be much less. A few land owners are for any kind of an improvement that will be permanent and permit but one assessment on the land. They are opposed to continuous assessments and never have any road other than the year it is new.

The commissioners have taken the view that as the county has $70,000 to its credit, more than what the taxpayers have paid in under the redistribution plan, the state should build the pike in justice to the general tax payers. This section of the county would get some benefit of this money. If it is not used on this road it goes to Fairfield and Dayton and Springfield traffic will benefit.

TRUSTEES FAVOR STATE ROAD

The trustees of Cedarville, Ross and Silvercreek townships, nine in number met here Wednesday night to go over the Jamestown pike improvement. After considerable discussion a vote was taken and all nine trustees voted for a state highway and opposed to a joint county and township road. The opposition was based on belief that the county could not build a road that would save the taxpayers or landowners any money and that for the county and townships to issue bonds the road would be worn out before the bonds could be paid off.

It was decided to get into communication with Commissioner Perrill and he was called by phone. Mr. Perrill stated that after investigation the road would be turned over to the state highway department and the papers had been forwarded to Columbus. This meant that the three townships would be relieved of the upkeep of an expensive road and would leave funds each year for other roads in each township.

HOW DO THEY GET STARTED?

Local friends of W. R. Torrence, Xenia, formerly of this place, were having a nice time during the week-end congratulating among themselves that he had gone west to become the husband of a well known Greene county woman who has been in the west. Just how the story started is not known yet it went for all it was worth here where both of the supposed participants are known. It so happened that Mr. Torrence was not out of Xenia and friends have been just as busy undoing the report as they were to give it attention.

AND THIS FROM CLARKE.

Clark county prisoners serving jail sentences will be required to work on the county highways keeping them in repair according to the plans of Prosecutor Donald Kirpatrick.

MISS DORA GLASS CRUSHED TO DEATH BY WAGON, TUESDAY.

Miss Dora Glass, aged 45, met instant death Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock, when caught between a farm wagon and the door jam of the barn at the home of her father, J. W. Glass, north-east of town.

The unfortunate lady was assisting her brother, Frank, getting a load of corn backed into the barn. It was very muddy at the door and the wagon had been hitched to the rear of the wagon. Miss Glass was driving and alongside the bed on the ground while Frank held the end of the tongue to guide it. It is said the tongue was jerked from Frank's hands and the wheels veered the wagon around over against the door-jam pinning the driver. Her neck was broken, jaw bone split, chest crushed and both legs terribly lacerated. Her brother Frank witnessed the horrible death of his sister. Dr. J. O. Stewart was called but aid was useless as the girl died almost instantly.

The deceased was born near Jamestown but has lived east of this place most of her life. She is the daughter of J. W. Glass, a well known farmer, and is survived by three brothers and three sisters; George W. and Frank, and Elmer of Springfield, and three sisters, Mrs. Raleigh Davids of Bowersville and Daisy and Grace at home.

The deceased was a member of the Church of Christ at Gladstone and the funeral was held yesterday from the home, burial taking place at Jamestown.

ASK GOVERNOR TO REMOVE CLARK COUNTY SHERIFF.

Clark county citizens, particularly Springfielders, place all the blame of the recent riot on Sheriff Jones and Mayor Wescott. City Manager Parsons and the police in not taking the situation in hand at the start. It is charged that the Sheriff, who is the highest officer in the county, abdicated in favor of City Manager Parsons, who was made a deputy sheriff and had full charge of the situation.

It is said that the mayor and city managers with a detachment of police visited the South Yellow Springs street section where rioting was taking place and made a poor attempt to disperse the mob. In fact, the mob gave notice to the officers that they were running the south end of town and as proof that it means business the guns were fired on the official party, police and all. A hasty retreat back to city hall was taken while the mob continued rioting. The citizens openly condemn the officials for inefficiency for not securing reinforcements and cleaning up the situation before it became unmanageable and state troops had to be called.

Governor Davis has promised an investigation but under the law has no power to remove a sheriff, this being up to the common pleas court. The cost to the city for state troops was $1,600 a day.

THE THIRD RIOT.

The third riot in Springfield since March 6, 1904 took place last Thursday, March 10. The first was the result of a colored man killing a policeman, Charles Collins. The negro was lynched and hung from a telephone in the center of the city and the Washington street levee burned. On March 7 and 8, 1906 the second riot occurred when a railroad brakeman named Davis was shot by a negro named Dean. At that time property on East Columbia street occupied by the lower element of the colored race was burned.

This time the shooting of Officer Ryan, who was attempting to disarm a negro, added to the trouble started when a 11 year old girl was assaulted in a vacant house by a negro. The situation is greatly deplored by the better element of the colored race as well as the whites.

PAYS MILLION DOLLARS FOR HOUSTON LAND.

Charles Lewis, Upper Sandusky banker, who bargained for 4,300 acres of the Houston land, is now in charge having paid down $550,000 and given mortgage notes in sixteen different tracts for $650,000. The failure of the Houston Bank last November with half a million liability, can now be cleared up by the state banking department. All the proceeds of the sale of land will be used to meet the bank's obligations. The receivers will now sell the notes given by Banker Lewis to have ready cash for all obligations which are expected to be paid in full.

CITY MANAGER RIDDELL WILL LEAVE XENIA.

City Manager Riddell of Xenia has resigned his position to become manager of Middletown at a greatly increased salary. Xenians are divided on the Riddell management. One faction supporting him and the other opposing owing to the great debt he has placed on the city. One side credits him with efficiency, the other the opposite.

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST JOB-AND ITS SCOPE

Every year the Presidency of the United States grows more important, until now it is recognized as the biggest job in the world. Yet few people realize that the president is not chosen by a majority vote and that several of our presidents have not been the most popular choice of all the people. This fact is clearly discussed in the story of the Presidency, one of the series of articles on Our Government, which we are issuing monthly.

A HIGH-LOW GAME.

"Let me have sleeping accommodations on the train to Ottawa," I said to the man at the window, who didn't seem at all concerned whether I took the trip or stayed at home.

"If a single passenger?" he finally said.

"No," I replied, "I'm married but I'm not taking anybody with me. A single sheet will answer."

"Upper or lower?" he asked.

"What's the difference?" I inquired.

"A difference of 50 cents," came the answer.

"Our prices to Ottawa are $1.50 and $2."

"You understand, of course," explained the agent, "the lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower berth. You want it lower you'll have to go higher."

"We sell the upper lower than the lower," he didn't need to be told, but we found everybody wanted the lower. In other words the higher the lower.

"Why do they all prefer the lower?" I broke in.

"On account of its convenience," he replied. "Most persons don't like the upper, although it is lower, on account of it being higher, and because when you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed, and then get down when you get up. I would advise you to take the lower, altho it's higher than the upper, for the reasons I have stated, that the upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. You can have the lower if you pay higher; but if you are willing to go higher it will be lower." —Exchange.

CONSIDERATION.

When you are called upon to lay away some loved one from your sight, and friends accompany you to where the earth covers up all that remains, let it be known as your wish that no one shall stand uncovered at the grave, and do not expect too long standing of your friends upon the moist or cold ground—if the weather is inclement.

Do not fear that you will be accused of heartlessness to the dead. There is a great deal of good common sense abroad in this world, which a woman of good motives is always safe to rely upon when she carries out an idea for the welfare of others.

Don't dread misinterpretation. Your friends will silently thank you for your thoughtfulness and consideration. Rather, if you can, emulate the example of our sensitive woman, who, when the funeral party arrived at the grave, asked that, as the weather was so cold, no one would leave the graves, but that they should watch the interment from the windows. Wasn't that consideration for others?

We do not wonder that the officiating clergyman, when that message was carried to him, lifted his hat in deference to such thoughtfulness. It was a little thing to do, but how much higher it raised its author in the estimation of her friends.

H. S. GIRLS WIN CUP.

The basket ball tournament for high schools in the county took place last Friday afternoon and Saturday at Kelly Hall, Antioch. The friendly rivalry between the various teams was keen and some excellent sport was enjoyed. The following is the result by scores of the various contests:

The local high school girls were easy winners throughout.

Cedarville vs. Yellow Springs won by former 11 to 5. Cedarville vs. Beavercreek 59 to 3; Cedarville vs. Ross 24 to 7 this being the final for the girls.

Other scores were: Beavercreek vs. Daborn 18-15; Yellow Springs vs. Ross, 26 to 39; Jamestown vs. Xenia, 15 to 28; Cedarville boys against Bowersville 18 to 14; Yellow Springs vs. Cedarville boys, 34 to 17; Xenia vs. Beavercreek 33 to 17.

In the final game Yellow Springs defeated Xenia 18 to 9 giving that school the cup.

Cedarville defeated Bowersville 18 to 14 but lost out in the contest against Yellow Springs.

The local boys played a good game but were light in comparison to their opponents in weight. This is the second time the girls have won the cup.

Are You Playing the Role of the Tortoise or Hare?

Are you breezing along at the head of the pack? Do you sprint to the front when the cop signals "Go!"? Do you roll up the hills without shifting a gear?

Why travel in dust that some faster car throws? Why stall at the crossings and fear every grade? You, too, can get pure

Columbus Gasoline

Don't blame the engine when your car is slow and sluggish. Take most of the blame on yourself for trying to tease efficient results from inferior grades of fuel.

Thousands of Ohio motorists know that Columbus is best for their cars, and they buy only Columbus.

They have power to spare, even on the steepest hills and in heavy going. They enjoy a fast getaway. Their engines start easily, even on the coldest mornings. Columbus, too, is crowding more miles into the gallon than they got from other gasolines.

You can benefit from their experience. Like them, you'll buy nothing but Columbus after you've tried the first tankful.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MARCH 20
JESUS ON THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 27:32-54.
GOLDEN TEXT—God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.—Rom. 5:8.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 26:31; John 12:26-31; 1 Cor. 1:18-25; 2:14; Gal. 3:14.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Dying for Us.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Crucified.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Supreme Sacrifice.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Cross and Its Meaning Today.

The grand climax of the six-month lesson is reached in this one. If one misses the significance of the crucifixion, all the preceding lessons are valueless. It is not a matter of learning the lessons taught by a great teacher, or imitating the examples of a great and good man, but of apprehending the atonement made by the world's Redeemer.

I.—The Place of Crucifixion (vv. 32-34).
They led him away to Golgotha, a hill north of Jerusalem resembling a skull. He was not crucified within the city, for he was to suffer without the gate (Heb. 13:12). At first they compelled him to bear his own cross, but when physical weakness made it necessary that some other should bear it for him, they compelled Simon the Cyrenian to bear it. In order that He might not succumb to death before He was nailed to the cross, the soldiers offered Him a stimulant of vinegar mixed with gall. He refused this, as He would consciously drink the cup of sin to His bitter death.

II.—Garmenting for the Clothing of the Lord (vv. 35-38).
It was the custom for the soldiers who had charge of the crucifixion to receive the garments of the one crucified. Here we have the fulfillment of Psalm 22:18. "They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture they did cast lots." If they had but eyes to see they could have beheld a robe of righteousness being provided to His death to cover their sinful nakedness.

III.—The Accusation (v. 37).
It was customary to place over the victim of the cross the name and crime of the offender. This superscription was placed over Jesus by Pilate to vex the Jews. He was their King. They had long looked for Him, and now when He had come this is the kind of treatment they gave Him.

IV.—Two Thieves Crucified With Him (v. 38).
This was another fulfillment of Scripture (Isa. 53:12). "He was numbered with the transgressors." In these three crosses we have set forth a spiritual history of the whole world.

The reviling was engaged in by the passersby, the chief priests, scribes, elders, and the thieves who were crucified with him. In their mockery they unwittingly spoke great truths.

1. "He saved others, himself he cannot save" (v. 42). This "jest" was meant to show the absurdity of Jesus' claims, but it demonstrated them and showed the reason for His sufferings. He could not save Himself and others, so He chose to give Himself to save others.

2. "If he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross" (v. 42). His refusal to abandon the cross established His royal claim. The very fact that He did not abandon the cross proves that He was what He claimed to be for it was unto the cross that He came.

3. "He trusted in God, let him deliver him now" (v. 43). His refusal to abandon the cross proved God's full approval.

VI.—The Death of Christ (vv. 45-50).
So shocking was this crime that nature threw around the Son of God a shroud that the Godless company could not gaze upon Him. Darkness was upon the land at noon-day. Upon the termination of the darkness He cried with a loud voice. "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" This darkness was the outer sign of that which hung over the Lord. He became sin for the world, and the sin hid God's face from Him. God forsake Him; turned from Him who had taken the sinner's place.

When the price was paid He cried out with a loud voice, showing that He still had vitality—that His death was not from exhaustion, but by His sovereign will. He yielded up the ghost, sent His spirit away. He died like no other man in all the world's history. He did not die of a broken heart.

God Sends Love to You.
"For now and new, and ever new, The golden bird within the blue; And every morning seems to say, 'There's something happy on the way, And God sends love to you!'"

Mothers Mold the Life.
If you would reform the world from its errors and vices, begin by enlisting the mothers.—O. Simmons.

As Good as It Seems.
Nothing is as good as it seems beforehand.—George Elliot.

"Blue Nose"
Blue Nose is a popular name for a native of Nova Scotia. Halliburton, in "Sam Slick," gives the following account of its origin: "Fray, sir," said one of my fellow passengers, "can you tell me why the Nova Scotians are called Blue Noses?" "It is the name of a potato," said I, "which they produce in the greatest perfection, and boast to be the best in the world. The Americans have in consequence given them the nickname 'Blue Noses.'"

Uncle Walt's Story

THE UNATTAINABLE

"THERE'S a spot on my back, about the size of a postage stamp, that has been itching all day," said the retired merchant, "and it has caused me more grief than the last attack of rheumatism. I can't reach it with either hand, and I have been backing up against every telephone pole and gatepost rubbing like a horse with the mange. A man of my social and commercial standing doesn't look dignified while thus engaged, but when a man's back itches, he has to defy the conventions, and get relief the best way he can."

"I can understand just how it has worried you," said the hotelkeeper. "The fact that you couldn't reach around and claw the itching place with your fingers kept the matter fresh in your memory and got on your nerves. The pursuit of the unattainable always is more interesting to us than the easier work close to hand. You had your whole person to scratch, and might have bought a currycomb for a quarter, and had a good time, but you couldn't be happy until you had reached the one inaccessible spot."

"A while ago I imagined I had heart disease, and went and saw the doctor. He knows I have money in the bank, and am considered good pay, so he confirmed my worst fears, and made up his mind to have me for his star patient, until one of us perished. He threw an awful scare into me so that I went home sweating ice cold, and took lemonade."

"He gave me some medicines and a lot of instructions. Among them was one to the effect that when I went to bed I should always sleep on my right side. He cautioned me over and over again against laying on my left side, and left the impression that if I disobeyed him, I'd wake up some morning to find myself a candidate for a local horseshoe. "That matter looked easy at the time, and I assured the doctor I'd follow his bylaws to the letter. When I went to bed that night, I stretched out on my right side, and in ten minutes I was just suffering to roll over, I don't believe I ever had such a yearning for anything. It seemed to me the height of human happiness would lie in sleeping on one's left side. I followed instructions for two nights, and then I decided that life wasn't worth such sacrifices, and I rolled over and slept on my left side, and nothing happened. I was feeling better than usual next morning when I got up."

"Of course this experience lessened my confidence in the doctor's instructions, and I concluded that if I was going to sidestep the instructions I might as well sidestep the medicines, too, for they tasted like low life in a Chinese alley, and I threw the whole lot out of the window. Thus the sawbones lost his most promising patient because he handed out a rule that wasn't strictly necessary."

"Speaking of the unattainable, do you know what the matter with Sibus Furbelow?" He has everything a man could ask, a stranger in the town would say. He has a beautiful home and a wife who would be considered a success anywhere, and he has festoons of money where it will do the most good."

"Yet he has a secret sorrow. I think he's the most melancholy man I ever saw, and his trouble is that he can't raise a good stand of whiskers. Nowadays, when whiskers are considered an infirmity, it seems strange that any man should grieve over such a matter."

"He sends all over the United States for hair growers, and half the time his face is blistered or swollen, and still the whiskers won't grow on him. If some miracle happened, and he woke up some morning to find his countenance all covered with whiskers, he'd probably have them shaved off within a week; but because they won't grow, he won't be happy till he gets them."

Plenty of Time.
Teacher—What, Bobby, you say you don't want to be president of the United States?
Bright Lad—Not just now, thanks. If it's all the same to you I'd rather wait until after a couple of more elections.—American Legion Weekly.

His Weak End.
"Reggie is going to the country on Saturday."
"For a week-end?"
"Yes, his head's been bothering him."—Boston Transcript.

Ossian.
Ossian, a mythical Gaelic hero and bard, is said to have lived in the third century, and to have been the son of Fingal, a Caledonian prince and hero, whom he accompanied on various expeditions. The story goes that Ossian was carried away by his fairy hand-mother to the "fane of the ever young," but he returned later, and then old, blind and alone. "Ossian after the Feline," he told the story of the heroes to St. Patrick. In 1760-68 James Macpherson published 12 volumes, which he claimed to be translations from Ossian's poems.

MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER
CHARLES CRABBE, author of the Ohio act, is glad his face has not become so well known as his name. And there's a reason.

The other day Crabbe was in Cincinnati. He went to a barber shop and while being shaved, the barber—a man of forbidding appearance—turned the talk to prohibition.

"This fellow Crabbe is a man I'd like to get my hands on," he said, glaring fiercely at his customer, carefully testing the sharpness of his razor.

Feeling not wholly comfortable, Crabbe made no comment, but the barber, pointing the razor over what Crabbe suspected was the general direction of his Adam's apple, needed no encouragement.

"If I ever had him in this chair, he'd never get out alive," he announced menacingly, while Crabbe's heart skipped a beat or two.

"That was the closest shave I ever had," declares Crabbe.

WITH the state government reorganization plan proposed by Governor Davis now before the general assembly, those forces in the state who have long profited by the existing wastefulness and lack of close supervision over state expenditures and over state work generally, are beginning to see the end of their years of harvest at the expense of the taxpayers.

But, it appears that they intend to make a desperate fight against putting the state's affairs on a business-like basis, in the hope that they may be able to save for themselves at least a part of the personal advantages, which they have so long enjoyed.

A frequently heard question at the capital now is: Will the to-do being raised by these selfish interests against being put out in the cold cut any figure against the general interest which demands the cutting out of waste and the establishment of higher standards of economy, competence and efficiency than are possible under the present system?

Reports here would indicate the people at home are beginning to feel that they realize who the forces of reorganization are, namely, the self-same interests who have always opposed legislation beneficial to the public because their personal advantages do not lie in that direction.

THE EASY approachability of Governor Davis, even after six hours, has been hailed hereabouts as a welcome change from the impression of aloofness that has been connected by observers with some of his predecessors.

But there has been a certain mystery why the governor has been accessible for a period early each evening. It was solved the other evening by the unexpected visit at the Governor's mansion of a state official in conjunction with an urgent matter of state.

As he entered, he heard bursts of childish laughter and caught a glimpse of the disappearing figure of a big man galloping up the stairs with a little boy in his right hand on his back. The youngster was giving loud vent to his enjoyment of the ride. At the bottom of the stairs a lady, whom the visitor recognized as the Governor's wife, was happily watching the performance.

"You will accuse the Governor for a little while, won't you," said Mrs. Davis smilingly, after welcoming the official. "We are just putting little Harry to bed, and we always like to romp around with him a bit first."

WHEN GOVERNOR DAVIS recently in a vigorous manner spoke of the effects of the well-known Rev. Herbert S. Bignow, 3600 Nearing and others to bring about repeal of the law directed against anarchistic plots, these facts all through Ohio a wave of apprehension. Letters by the scores poured into the executive offices here, strongly commending the stand against the anti-American and pro-Bolshevik propaganda.

Men who have been watching legislative processes for years and who have had an opportunity of observing the periodical endeavor of previous general assemblies to find a permanent solution of the Ohio taxation problem profess that at last they see a ray of light in the taxation outlook. They agree that in the recommendations of the citizens' tax commission named by the Governor, who has transmitted them to the legislature, there is offered a complete remedy for the middle in which the problem of the state has been for years.

The recommendations of the commission are:

1. Cause rigid adherence to the uniform rule, if it is possible.
2. If that is not possible, then amend the rule, abolishing uniform rule and establishing income and inheritance taxes, but strictly limiting property taxes to 1 1/2 per cent.

3. Amend constitution to provide strict debt limitation in every taxing district.

Man Who Commands Success.

A man who is not enamored of his job, who lacks that resolute, determined purpose which knows no defeat, recognizes no failure, is never a success. The man who is victory oriented will get up more determined than ever after he is knocked down. The harder the fall the greater the rebound. You can't keep a man down who isn't discouraged him, any more than you could have discouraged a Napoleon for his personality, his character, will remain although his home, his property, and every material thing he possessed be swept away.

New Success.

Ancient Money.

The first coins used by the civilized nations of the ancient world were small metal ingots stamped with a ruler's seal. It is probable that they were first minted in Lydia, the rich Asian kingdom of which Croesus was the most famous king. The "punch marked" coins of India are assigned to a period older even than that of Buddhism.

Give Us Something Positive.

There is much advice on the subject of kissing, but all of it is when not to.—Toledo Blade.

Opportunity Gone.
While talking to a ruler one day I was annoyed by the interruption of my four-year-old daughter who was trying to tell something exciting. I reminded her that it was impolite to interrupt me and went on with my story. When I had finished I turned to her, saying: "Now, Louise, what did you want to tell me?" She answered disconsolately: "I've lost my way now."—Exchange.

Safety First.
After a dreadful experience in which a small boy was locked in the bath room accidentally, the family had an emergency bell installed and also had the door equipped with a night lock like that on the front door. Then they hung the extra key on the wall outside the room where any would-be rescuer would be sure to see it. The emergency bell was placed convenient to the bath tub, as many semi-invalids or the aged have been known to faint from the contact of hot water.

World's Highest Village.
The little village of Karok in Kashmir is said by writers in Liastropolis to be the highest in the world. Its altitude is 14,940 feet. The buildings consist of a few wretched stone houses and a small Buddhist monastery. Kashmir is the most northerly state of India and lies wholly in the Himalaya mountains. Not far from its eastern border is Mt. Everest, the loftiest peak so far as known, in the world.

The Green Heron.

This bird, which is sometimes called the "fly-up-the-creek," is about one and a half feet long and is common throughout the United States and Canada. It feeds mostly on fish, frogs, and other aquatic animals, and may be seen, particularly in the morning and in the evening, standing patiently motionless in some shallow water, waiting till prey comes within reach.

Strange Collection of Manuscripts.
In the famous Vatican library there are more than 100 volumes of manuscripts constructed upon popular tales by composers of various nations.

Varnish to Imitate Ground Glass.
To make a varnish to imitate ground glass dissolve 50 grains of salicylic acid and 20 grains of alcohol in 100 grains washed methylated ether, and add, in small quantities, sufficient benzine to make it dry with a suitable grain, too little making the varnish too transparent and an excess making it crack.

Extremes Economy.
A neighbor had some dental work done. When the filling was completed the tooth felt too long, causing him servonous and annoyance. I asked him why he didn't have the dentist grind it off a little and he said seriously: "Well, I hate to think of all that gold dust going to waste after I've paid for it."—Exchange.

The Cat Had Tired It.
A friend visiting in the city called on me, and it being almost lunchtime, I asked her to have tea with me and try some of my cake I had just taken from the oven. When I got to the pantry door I found I had forgotten to close the window and my neighbor's cat was enjoying the last of my cake.—Exchange.

Accidental French.
An American lady in Paris wanted some water, but could not make the maid understand she wanted it hot. After several vain attempts, she explained in disgust: "Eh?" The maid brightened up suddenly, went off and returned with a pitcher of hot water. It was not until some time afterward that the lady learned from a friend that the girl had evidently mistaken "Sho" for "chaud," which is the French for "hot."—Boston Transcript.

What St. Anthony.
St. Anthony was the saint who could never be tempted. He was peculiarly immune from the blandishments of women. Usually when a man is referred to as a "modern St. Anthony" it is meant that he doesn't care about women.

Acids.
Nitric acid which is used in preparing the tremendous explosives, trinitrotoluene, is a very powerful acid, and it applied to the skin burns terribly. Surgeons occasionally use it for destroying growths. Hydrocyanic or prussic acid is probably the most deadly poisonous of the acids. Formic acid, found in certain insects, especially in ants, is used as a food by crickets or eating the insects—among some aboriginal tribes. Possibly malleic acid, or some of the edible fruit acids are among the weakest of the acids.

Paper Manufactured From Wood.
The sheet raw materials from which paper is made are spruce, hemlock, poplar and pine woods, maple, straw and old paper. Three-fourths of the entire output is manufactured from wood pulp.

Rev. Thomas Turner of Quincy, Mass., spent the first of the week with his brother-in-law, Dr. W. R. McChesney and wife. Rev. Turner came west at the invitation of the Xenia Presbyterian congregation and filled the pulpit Sabbath and again Wednesday evening. The pulpit has been vacant for several weeks.

The Cincinnati Enquirer states that "Jesse V. Sullivan, has been appointed secretary to Governor E. F. Morgan of Charleston, W. Va. Mr. Morgan is a brother of Mrs. O. P. Elias of this place. The Enquirer also states that "Mr. Sullivan, who is a newspaperman, knows more people than any one man in West Virginia. He has been managing editor of the Charleston Gazette.

Those here who know Dr. Wiant of Springfield, Superintendent of this district in the West-Ohio Conference of the M. E. church, regretted to read in the daily press of the misfortune that happened to his son, Bijss, a student in a musical conservatory in Boston, that he had sustained a broken ankle. The young man is about 25 years of age and an accomplished musician especially an organist. It is feared at this time that he may have a stiff ankle from the nature of the fracture, this being the case he would be handicapped at the organ. Young Wiant was upon completion of his course to go to China as a missionary and head a musical college.

JUDGE REDUCED MORE THAN HALF OF THE ASSESSMENTS

Judge Clevenger of Wilmington, who heard the injunction cases in Xenia, over valuations for street improvements, rendered his decision on Tuesday. About half of the valuations were reduced while the others were allowed to stand. In some cases the appraisers admitted probably they were excessive. Judge Shoup had an assessment of $8000 for street paving on farm land on the Dayton pike entrance to the city. The tract has never been subdivided and the court reduced the appraisal to $3,600 for what would be nine ordinary building lots.

BILLY GOES TO DAYTON.

The ministers of Dayton have secured Evangelist Billy Sunday for eight weeks in November and December 1922. The local committee will be required to furnish entertainment for Sunday's party, as well as pay two-thirds of their salaries. The other third is to be paid by Sunday himself. The guarantee for tabernacle and entertainment with incidentals will be $30,000. Sunday is in Cincinnati at present. The only money Sunday gets will be the free will offering taken the last day.

Special services will be held at the M. E. church Sabbath morning. The subject will be: "My Life, What shall I do with it?" A special invitation is extended to high school and college students who are attendants of the M. E. church, and all non-members of any church to be present Sabbath morning.

The State Journal on Wednesday had a fine likeness of Mrs. A. W. Atwood and three sons on the first page. Mrs. Atwood is a sister of Mrs. J. P. White of this place, her husband, the Rev. A. W. Atwood, accepting a call to the Indiana Presbyterian church in Columbus. They have been located at Columbus, South Carolina.

A report is in circulation that the Houston Creamery at South Charleston has been sold to Dayton parties and will be placed in operation soon.

George Johnson was taken to the McClellan hospital Wednesday where an operation was performed for an abscess on his liver. His condition is regarded critical although late reports are that he had a favorable night.

Keeping Fit.
Man in this world is like a traveler who is always walking toward a colder region, and who is, therefore, obliged to be more active as he goes farther north. The great malady of the soul is cold, and in order to counteract this formidable illness he must keep up the activity of his mind not only by work but by contact with his fellow men and with the world.—De Toqueville.

Plastic Amputations.
Dr. G. Bosch Arana of Buenos Ayres has made a remarkable success in modeling the stump of an amputated thigh by the plastic operation. In the Semana Medica (Buenos Ayres) he gives details of the way he remodels the stump so as to utilize the individual muscles and describes the extent to which the man moves his foot, thus walking by the natural bending of knee and ankle.

Oath No. Light Matter in Siam.
The following Siamese oath reported by "The Office Dog" indicates that in Siam peccancy is no light matter: "May the blood drop from my body; may my head break in two; may the crocodiles devour me; may I be compelled to carry water in wicker baskets to quench the flames of hell; may I suffer the most horrible tortures until my years are as many as the grains of sand by the sea. If I violate this my solemn oath."—World Outlook.

Valuable Crowns in Vatican.
In the pope's treasure house are two crowns which are valued at several million dollars. One of them was the gift of Napoleon to Pius XII, and contains the largest emerald in the world. The other, the gift of Queen Isabel of Spain to Pius IX, is worth probably $2,000,000.

STUDENTS SIGN PLEDGE

Rev. Butler spoke several days ago before the college students on athletics and following his talk the students and professors signed the following pledge: "We, the undersigned who are students and professors in Cedarville College, desiring the hearty support of all of you agree that we will do everything in our power to place winning teams in the field. We will observe training rules to the letter, diet, keep reasonable hours at night, refrain from tobacco in any form during the college year, and keep physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight at whatever cost. Give us a chance to prove this to you."

"A DEVICE OF SATAN"

Away back in 1826 railroads did not enjoy the popularity they now have. A striking example of the feeling toward them at that time is furnished by a copy of an old letter written by the school board at Lancaster, Ohio, in that year. The letter refuses to permit the school house of that town to be used for a discussion as to whether railroads were practical. The letter reads: "You are welcome to use the school house to debate all proper questions in, but such things as railroads and telephone are impossibilities and rank infidelity. There is nothing in the Word of God about them. If God designed that His intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of fifteen miles an hour, He would have clearly foretold thru His Holy prophets."

"It is a device of Satan to lead immortal souls down to hell." —Ex.

LAST GAME OF SEASON.

Cedarville closes the Basket Ball season this, Friday night, March 18 in the Alford Memorial, when the Varsity boys take on the fast Defiance College quintet. Defiance and Bowling Green have broken even this year, so the local boys will likely be meeting a team of their class. The Varsity girls clash with the strong Wittenberg sextet. Wittenberg defeated our girls at Springfield 21-20 but they cannot repeat it on our floor. No-o. Bo!

Admission 35 cents and no war tax. Summer Fess of Antioch will referee.

FORMER CITIZEN DIES IN FINDLAY HOSPITAL

Word has been received here of the death of William (Broadway) Milburn, formerly a resident of this place, at a hospital in Findlay. He had fallen and sustained a broken hip which at his age resulted in his death. He was a brother of the late James H. Milburn and is survived by three children, Leonard of near Findlay, Fred of Kansas City, Mo., and Opal of Cleveland. Mr. Milburn was here on a visit last fall with his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Milburn, he being an inspector for the state highway department.

INCOME AGONY IS OVER.

Tuesday midnight was the extreme limit of getting the income tax blanks filed with the Internal Revenue Department without a penalty. According to returns from Cincinnati a greater number of persons are filing returns this year than ever before. This was due to the fact that many men that had the advantage of extreme high wages were compelled to make a return. Many farmers were not required to make returns, or if any for a small amount compared with last year, due to the slump in prices, and still holding wool, wheat and corn.

SOME SENSE TO THIS.

According to press dispatches the county commissioners of Athens county have refused to rebuild or repair any more roads in that county until the legislature places some restrictions on the use of trucks on the highways.

Infantal Tattooing.
In some countries tattooing is adopted for several purposes. For example, in Samoa, when a woman is married several tattoo marks are placed on her, and both in Fiji and Samoa the birth of each child is registered in this way on the mother's hand.

Consolation.
From the agony column: "Young man, recently rejected, desires apartments adjoining those of young couple possessed of a baby that cries all night, causing father to promenade in pajamas; good loud sweeper preferred." —Boston Transcript.

Avocado Rich in Fat.
The avocado or alligator pear contains as much nutritious fat as does ordinary cream, sometimes as high as 20 per cent. As it contains little starch or sugar, it might prove valuable in the diet of diabetics if it did not cost so much.
